Whose Say-so is Best?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so alone as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives. Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids does not rest solely upon their makers' say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines.

Amongst these writers we find such medical lights as Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennet Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hale, of the same city; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Grover Coe, of New York; Dr. Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, of Pa., and scores of others equally eminent.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion and corrects irregularities, cures painful periods, dries up disagreeable and weakening drains, sometimes known as pelvic catarrh and a multitude of other diseases peculiar to women. Bear in mind, it is not a patent nor even a secret medicine, but the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated physician, of large experience in the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, who frankly and confidingly takes his patients into his full confidence by telling them just what his "Prescription" is composed of. Of no other medicine put up for woman's special maladies and sold through druggists, can it be said that the maker is not afraid to deal thus frankly, openly and honorably, by letting every patient using the same know exactly what she is taking.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

How to preserve health and beauty is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy send Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only; in cloth binding 31 stamps.

Impending Platt Divorce Suit.

According to reports in circulation in New York yesterday, Senator Thomas C. Platt has deeded nearly all his large fortune, so that his financial resources are now no greater than those of a man of means. It is supposed that the reason for this reported disposition of the Senator's estate is to preclude his wife from obtaining a large settlement in the event of divorce proceedings.

From other quarters the further statement comes that Mrs. Platt has been acquainted with her husband's procedure for sometime, and is a present striving to ward off the possible loss of a financial adjustment in her favor.

When the martial affairs of the Senator assumed such shape that they threatened to have a public airing, Mr. Platt is said to have consulted with his lawyers regarding means to prevent Mrs. Platt from obtaining possession of his wealth, or even a fair portion of it. The expedient of giving his fortune away so that it could not be attached was the plan which is reported to have been the result of these deliberations.

In accordance with this reported plan the Senator began steps to turn his fortune over to his sons, and since the earlier part of August is said to have transferred most of his holdings to them. The estate, which consists almost altogether of stocks and bonds, and is estimated to have a value of more than $1,000,000, has been distributed among the three sons and several grandchildren. Mr. Platt has kept for himself only a sufficient amount to defray his current living expenses. He is said to be almost wholly dependent on the salary of $30,000 a year which he received as president of the United States Express Company. For the last month Mrs. Platt has been aware of the alleged plan to cut her off, and it is thought that she is bending every effort toward finding means to defeat it. That she was contemplated suing the Senator for divorce and procure a settlement before the property has been irrevocably lost to her is a statement made by persons in touch with affairs.

In addition to the fear of having to make a large allowance in the event of a divorce suit, Mr. Platt is said to have had in mind in transferring his fortune the disposition of his estate after death. The statement is made that his wish to have the property revert to his sons has figured largely in his decision to give his wealth away.

Mrs. Platt, at Tioga, Lodge, charged that a plot was on foot to ruin her, and that her husband and her son-in-law, Col. Francis S. Carmody, had combined forces against her.

Will of W. S. Lurty Upheld.

A jury in the Circuit Court of Rockingham yesterday returned a verdict upholding the will of Warren S. Lurty, who left the bulk of his estate to his housekeeper, Susie Smith, a young white woman.

The hearing, of the suit, which occupied 11 days was concluded Monday night, and was one of the most bitterly contested cases that has ever been on the docket of local courts. The contestants were Mrs. Frank L. Harris, sister of Captain Lurty, and several of his brothers. Captain Lurty's widow who was Miss Annie Shepperd, of Richmond, and who left her husband some time before his death, was not a party to the contest. She will receive her dower share under the statute. Miss Smith's share of the estate is estimated in the neighborhood of $15,000.

On account of the prominence of the testator, who was several times a republican candidate for gubernatorial nomination in Virginia, a former United States District Attorney for the Western district, United States Marshal of Oklahoma territory during the Harrison administration, the suit attracted widespread attention in the State.

The contestants alleged that Captain Lurty was mentally incapable of making a will during the last two years of his life; that Miss Smith exerted undue influence while nursing him. The hearing was full of testimony of a sensational character, but the contestants were unable to break the instrument on account of lack of evidence. Captain Lurty claimed relationship to Stonewall Jackson, the Confederate chieftain, and was himself a valiant Confederate soldier and for years a prominent attorney in Harrisonburg.

Arrest of a Consul General.

A scandal of international importance promises to develop from the arrest in New York, yesterday afternoon, of Raoul Amador, consul general in that city of the republic of Panama, on a charge preferred by Bertha J. Gresham, of New York, of failure to support her child.

Amador, a dashing young lad, is not only consul general of the new republic, but is a son of President Amador of Panama. He lives at the Longacre Hotel. His accuser, it has been discovered, is the wife of the late Lieutenant Gresham, who died about five years ago, leaving her $25,000. She is well-known in Washington.

In a cafe on Broadway yesterday afternoon the detectives found Amador. They were accompanied by the woman. As he saw the party approaching, he reached back to his hip pocket, as if to draw a weapon. The sleuths jumped at him and held his arms.

"It's all right if you are detectives," said Amador. "I thought you were friends of that woman, and was going to kill you if I had a gun."

Amador was arraigned and held in the Center Street Police Court. He was bitter against the woman.

Lost $10,000 at Poker.

By means of a bogus police raid on a poker game in Salt Lake City on the 18 ultimo, Alexander and William McWhirter, two recent arrivals from Scotland, claim to have been robbed of $10,000. En route to Los Angeles the brothers stopped at Salt Lake City and were inveigled into a card game by affable strangers.

A raid was made by two pretended policemen, one of whom took, it is alleged, $8,000 of the $10,000 McWhirter had when he sat at the game. The other "officer" attempted to escape from the McWhirters, but they forced him to take them to the police station. The stranger confessed to Chief of Police George Sheets and came back with $1,000 which was restored to the Scots. They later proceeded to Los Angeles, where they secured counsel and returned to Salt Lake to prosecute a search for their money.

Chief Sheets says that the man who brought the McWhirters to the station was not an officer, and that he did not look into the case at the time because he thought that the trouble was merely a difference over some business transaction.

JEWELRY.

Going Housekeeping?

If so, you can hardly get along without spoons, knives and forks. The silver-plated are without a doubt the most economical in the end. They wear longer, look better and cost very little more than the ordinary kinds. We can even supply silver-plated knives with steel blades.

Your sideboard is hardly complete without a silver set. Silver cake and fruit baskets should also be placed there.

A candelabra with will brighten the table considerably. After the spread has been cleared off a silver fern dish should be placed on the table.

The necessary things in cut-glass are the decanter, the berry bowl and the celery dish. In a great many homes the ice cream is served on cut glass plates.

On your dresser place a traveling alarm clock and a sterling silver or silver-plated toilet set, also a hat and clothes brush.

You will find plenty use of a number of small silver-plated trays. One has always so many tri-kets to take care of.

There should be a jewel case on the dresser, if only for appearance sake. Over night it is a good place to keep the watch and Z—K Gold Chain.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCT. 3, 1906.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE says it is reported in that city that the late Al. Adams, the former policy king, was driven to suicide by the hounding of newsspers. This may or may not be so, but that certain journals seemed bent upon running him out of the world has been evident from the time he was, by public opinion, delivered up to the keeper of the New York penitentiary. He had barely emerged from that institution when the same relentless journals renewed their warfare on him. Adams was then a ticket-of-leave man; the demands of the law had been satisfied, and it would seem that the time had come to call off the dogs. But moralists and reformers are generally relentless, and Adams was kept before the public and his movements dogged by a class of people who seem to have an abundance of time in which to attend to the business of others. When he realized the great notoriety he had attained and the fact that he had once worn stripes, he found that his wealth was no palliation for the humiliation to which he was subjected. He was aware of the fact that should he put his head out of his hotel he would be observed of all observers. He dared not visit a theatre or a church for the same reason, and life became a burden. His children, too, it seems, were not spared, but ignored and ill-treated by fellow pupils at schools and colleges. With no apology for the unlawful means used by Adams to attain wealth, it may be observed that his persecution was often run into the ground, and as often conducted by men who are not as Cæsar's wife. Adams, after all, was no greater sinner in the sight of heaven than Zaccheus of old, who had amassed wealth by the most cruel of all means. The Author of the Christian faith was a self-invited guest in his house, and we are told he was "received joyfully" by the publican. Had a friendly hand been held out to Adams instead of incessant insults it would have been more in conformity to the Saviour's teachings and example.

THOMAS C. PLATT, senior Senator from New York, now nearing his 75th year, is experiencing in the advanced evening of life what some others have passed through by thoughtlessly entering into matrimonial alliances with women much their juniors and, naturally, with tastes conforming to their ages. A few years ago the wife of the Senator, who had shared his joys and sorrows from the time she was the bride of his youth, sickened and died, and when the conventional time for mourning had barely elapsed the Senator, who was then in the patriarchal age, became enamored with a dashing and beautiful woman who, it appears, had already had two husbands. She had been divorced from the first; the second died a natural death. Despite the remonstrances of his children, now men and women, he laid siege to the woman's heart and was successful in his suit. The marriage took place and the reaction soon followed in its wake in the shape of jars which usually accompany ill-matched pairs with opposite tastes. A divorce suit is now impending; and the private affairs of the Senator are being printed from one end to the other of the broad domains of the country. Ancient writers never uttered a more apt truism than when they observed that old men are not always wise men. It seems to have been so in Mr. Platt's case. Old and infirm and needing constant attention while moving to and fro, he is tormented with blazing newspaper headlines and detailed descriptions of his private family affairs which he is powerless to suppress. He is also compelled to tax his wits in order to save a considerable portion of his wealth from his wife and her lawyers.

THE DEMOCRATIC congressional campaign book, issued today, is mainly devoted to the tariff question. Democratic tariff argument compares the schedules of the first tariff bill passed with those of the Dingley law, laying much stress on the increased rates. Henry Clay, James A. Garfield, James G. Blaine and other republicans are quoted by the democrats as being opposed to high protective tariff. One of the most interesting exhibits deals with the contributions made by insurance companies to the republican campaign fund. The handbook contains many pages of the testimony reproduced from the insurance hearings, and says Judge Alton B. Parker was vindicated in the charges he made against Chairman Cortelyou.

THE CHARLOTTESVILLE PROGRESS in commenting upon the editorial which appeared in Monday's Gazette in opposition to hazing and other ruffianism of college students says:

We are gratified to be able to say that the practice of hazing has never prevailed at the University of Virginia. This is in part due to the fact that the University students are usually older and more maturer than the students of colleges where preposterous pranks of this character are played; but it is chiefly due to the spirit of honor and chivalry and decorum that characterize the student body of our noble University.

Washington, Oct. 3.

President Roosevelt will go to Harrisburg and York, Pennsylvania. The magnificent Capitol is to be dedicated at Harrisburg and the President is on the programme for an address. He will take luncheon with Governor Pennypacker and a select gathering of Keystone State notables and, on the way back to Washington, will stop at York where a county fair will be in full blast. The President will make another talk at York.

That the Panama canal will be built by contract is the full expectation of officials here. The canal commission has gone so far as to issue in confidence to practically all of the big contractors of the country tentative specifications of the work. As a result there are being received a great many proposals and suggestions of which the commission is availing itself to revise and improve its specifications.

President Roosevelt this morning had a long conference with Judge Charles E. Magoon, recently retired as governor of Panama, at the close of which it was announced that the President had decided not to send Magoon to Cuba as had been contemplated. Beekman Winthrop, President Governor of Porto Rico, will probably be appointed provisional governor of Cuba, as recommended by Secretary Taft, and Judge Magoon will proceed to the Philippines where he will become vice governor general.

Representative Sereno E. Payne, chairman of the House ways and means committee, had a talk with the President this morning about the New York political situation. "It looks to me as though Mr. Hughes would be surely elected," Mr. Payne said after his talk with the Executive. "Never in all my memory have I ever known so many democrats to say that they would vote the republican ticket as they are saying this year. Of course, we will lose a few votes among the labor unions, but I do not think the losses will be any where near as large as the gains." "Are you on the labor unions' blacklist?" Mr. Payne was asked. "So I have been informed by the newspapers," said he with a laugh, "but I have not received any notice to that effect from the unions themselves. But I am not worrying."

A Multi-Millionaire.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 3 —Made twenty-four times a millionaire by a single stroke of the pen, J. M. Longyear, a Michigan man, suddenly has come into the limelight in the financial circles of the national metropolis.

A year ago Mr. Longyear moved his magnificent stone mansion from Marquette, Mich., because of taxes he said were unjust, and set it up again in Brookline, Mass., stone for stone, exactly as it had stood in the northern Michigan city.

The immediate valuable iron ore lands owned by him in the northern peninsula, and which he had hedged abopt with refusals to sell, now have given him a new and a distinct prominence.

He has leased his holdings, and the deal was made in the office of J. P. Morgan and Company by E. H. Gary, representing the United States Steel Corporation.

The deal was the lease of these lands to the steel trust, and the royalties from the lease will bring Mr. Longyear and his heirs $24,000,000.

In Wife's Clothes After a Drink.

Charles Groves, a Cincinnati traveling salesman, sometimes gets thirsty. He was so conscientious in his labors to assuage it that Saturday his wife took his clothes away from him and locked the erring one in a room to meditate. He stood it well all day Sunday, but Monday he reached his limit of endurance. He had to have a drink. His own clothes were not at hand, but in a closet he discovered some of his better half's. A loose flowing kimono, black skirt and waist, his wife's shoes and her hat were the sum total of the wearing apparel to be found. So decked out, his thirst still much in evidence, he started. Patrolman O'Connor found him at Sixth and Plum streets in search of thirst-quenching emporiums and arrested him.

Until the hidden money was found it was supposed that Miss Robinson left not more than $6,000, but now with the finding of the concealed treasure the estate is brought up to more than $50,000. It is estimated that $20,000 was found in the house yesterday.

Students Expelled.

Forty Lake Forest College (Illinois) students refused Monday to sign a pledge submitted by the faculty not to indulge in hazing, and, by the declaration of President Richard D. Harlan, they were expelled from the college. Sixty students, after a mass meeting, decided to accept the manifesto of the professor.

President Harlan, in chapel last Friday, delivered an ultimatum to the students forbidding hazing. In order that the rule might be observed more generally he asked the students to sign a pledge. This they refused to do.

President Harlan declared he would give the students until Monday night to sign the agreement. If they had not attached their names by 10 o'clock they were to consider themselves expelled. A mass meeting was called accordingly and the matter was discussed pro and con.

The 40 students refusing to sign the faculty pledge bound themselves into a collegiate union after the mass meeting and declared they would fight the professor to a finish. They say they will cause a "strike" and will bring out the 60 signers to their side through sympathy, if by no other means.

Killed by Mistake.

Mistaken for a burglar late Monday night, Thomas Hudson, aged 68 years, of Philadelphia, was shot by Robert Stanton, aged 18 years, a neighbor, and so seriously wounded that he died yesterday. The Stanton family was awakened during the night by a noise on the first floor of their home. Believing a burglar was in the house, young Stanton secured a revolver and shot down the stairway and the intruder fell. When the lights were turned on the young man was horrified to see that the supposed burglar, who was lying on the floor with a bullet in the chest, was Hudson, a friendly neighbor. The victim of the mistake was quickly sent to a hospital, and despite every effort of the physicians to save him he grew steadily worse and died yesterday. Stanton was arrested, and at a hearing given him later in the day the shooting was explained to the satisfaction of the police magistrate, and the prisoner was released on his own recognizance.

Special Officer Killed.

Roy Hoyle, a special officer of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, and one of the most widely known and best liked men in Mobile and vicinity, was fatally shot, and Alderman Sidney Lyons, chairman of the city council of Mobile, was slightly wounded in the hand last night during a fight at the county jail between deputy sheriffs and a crowd of men determined to capture Cornelius Robinson, a young negro. The mob is still hunting the negro and will lynch him if possible. The negro, who is only seventeen years old, yesterday attacked Ruth, the twelve-year-old daughter of Blount Sossaman, who lives about three miles from Mobile. The girl was passing a secluded spot not far from her home when she was attacked. Later she was found lying unconscious by the roadside, and was taken to her home. Detectives were placed on the track of the negro, and within three hours he was captured. He was taken before the Sossaman girl, who at once identified him. Deputy heriff Fatch, knowing that the life of the negro would be taken by the mob if he conducted him to Mobile caused him to be conveyed to a station several miles up the Mobile and Ohio Railroad. He was not taken to jail at all, and was at least eight miles from the city, when the mob, which determined to have him, approached the building and the shooting of Hoyle and Lyons followed.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct 3.—Cornelius Robinson, a negro, charged with criminally assaulting Ruth Sossamay last night, was brought here today and placed in jail for safe keeping. Robinson denies his guilt, but he was identified by the victim.

Building Boom in Virginia

A building boom in which every city in the state of Virgina shares is shown to be in swing by reports for the last nine months received at the offices of State Labor Commissioner James B. Doherty of Richmond. "From the figures in hand, covering building operations in the state for the three-quarters of the current year and assuring that there will be no falling off in the remaining three months, I estimate the increase over last year at approximately $3,000,000," Commissioner Doherty said yesterday. This applies only to the cities, he explained, and does not embrace the buildings constructed or in course of construction in the smaller towns, village, hamlets and countryside. Commissioner Doherty looks for a total of construction in the cities for the year of 1906 approximating $7,000,000. The figures may exceed this, as the Labor Commissioner is given to conservative calculation when asked to approximate in advance.

The tidewater cities will show the largest increase in building activity this year. In the city of Norfolk more large buildings have risen than in any preceding year in that city's history.

Activity in the state at large in the building line will probably break the record.

Today's Telegraphic News

Trade Unionism and Socialism.

London, Oct. 3.—One of the most momentous fights in the labor history of Great Britain is proceeding at Cardiff and Swansea, two of the principal ports in Wales, where a desperate attempt is being made to compel British trade unionists to adopt socialism. At Cardiff there is a conference of delegates representing 600,000 railway employees, and at Swansea there is a conference of representatives of 528,000 miners.

The socialists yesterday captured the railway conference and hope today to capture the miners. The socialist forces are being directed by James Keir Hardie, the socialist leader, who demands that all members of Parliament elected by the labor forces shall join his organization, called the labor representation committee, whose programme is pure socialism.

Of the 54 members of Parliament elected by the labor vote, 25 are Hardieites, and 25 incline toward liberalism. These are called liberals.

The leader of the liberals is Richard Bell, secretary of the railway union. He is conducting a warfare against the Hardieites, but he met with defeat yesterday, his organization directing that all labor candidates in future parliamentary elections shall join the labor representation committee.

If the miners' conference follows the lead of the railway conference, which is very probable, the result will be the formation of two labor parties. One, conservative, led by Richard Bell, the other radical, led by Hardie. Each declines to cooperate with the other. The power of labor members of Parliament will thus become an almost negligible quantity. For this reason, the fight is being followed with more interest than any other political event in many years in England, for the power of the labor members of Parliament is already causing uneasiness among both liberals and conservatives, who believe that if labor is able to present a united front it might soon hold the parliamentary baldnce of power and compel the re-alignment of the old parties into pro- and anti-labor parties.

Insurgents Refuse to Lay Down Arms.

Havana, Oct. 3.—Serious trouble is threatened over the disarmament of the insurgents which was begun in earnest today. Precautions are being taken by the provisional government, however, to see that little opportunity is given the insurgents to get out of hand.

At Guantanamo the situation is precarious. Two thousand insurgents there have refused to lay down their arms. Marines are being hurried to the spot to reinforce the American force already on guard. It is not believed the trouble will come to open fighting between the rebels and Americans, but the former may take to the woods as bandits.

Many of the insurgents have offered to give up their arms if General Des Castillo so orders. He has not arrived at the scene, and it is probable disarmament will be delayed until his arrival to give a chance for his influence to work upon the recalcitrants.

Hundreds of marines are now being dispatched to various points throughout Pinar del Rio province.

General Guzman, Guerra and del Castillo have assured the provisional government there will be no trouble over the disbanding of the insurgents.

The yellow fever situation has caused considerable anxiety. Six cases have been discovered in scattered localities. Governor Taft is giving a great deal of attention to have the camps of the marines as well as having the city generally placed in sanitary condition to reduce the danger from this disease to a minimum.

Killed by Blast of Hot Coke Gas.

Baltimore, Oct. 3 —Four men met a horrible death and seven others were seriously injured by a blast of hot coke gas at the plant of the Maryland Steel Company, at Sparrows' Point, Md., near Baltimore, at 8:30 o'clock this morning. While a gang of workmen at "C" furnace were clearing away the coal and other material which had been used in replacing a Tuyere cooler, the cooler suddenly and without the slightest warning, backed out of the furnace, permitting a quanity of hot coke accompanied by an intensely hot gas blast to fall upon the helpless victims before they had time to move to a place of safety, resulting in the death of four workmen, three colored and one white and the serious injury of seven others, one of whom is so badly burned that he will die. Among those injured are two foremen. The injured were rushed to Baltimore on a special train, and removed in ambulances to the Maryland Hospital.

O'Connor's Speech.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—In a fervid address T. P. O'Connor, M. P., a leader in the struggle to free Ireland, outlined the plans undertaken for the cause at this morning's session of the convention of the United Irish League of America, in Witherspoon Hall. He reviewed the work being done in the British parliament and the House of Commons and insisted that the day is not far off, when the Emerald Isle will emerge from British rule and have its own home government.

The chair of honor was filled this morning by Michael J. Ryan, the noted local orator and champion of Irish liberty. His name has been suggested for the office of president of the league. Colonel John F. Finerty, of Chicago, who has been president for two years, declares he will not accept renomination.

Duel to the Death.

New York, Oct. 3 —Like a fight in mediæval times, where two knights fight for the favor of mi-ladi, was the duel to the death today between two men, one armed with a long knife, the other with a revolver. The duel was fought in the home of the woman for whom one man will die and the other stand trial for murder. Mrs. Jennie Smith, an attractive brunette, said to be in business near Wall street, lived with her two children in their apartment in Bradhurst avenue. Her husband is dead. Herbert Partridge, an accountant in a Wall street firm, has been renting rooms in the house for several months. He was constantly with the widow. However, there was another suitor for her hand. This was Charles Jahn, an athlete of New Rochelle, The two men had quarreled several times. Last evening, Jahn called on Mrs. Smith. As he was about to leave at midnight Partridge entered. He had been drinking. The men quarreled and finally Partridge drew the knife. Jahn drew a revolver and fired three times just as Partridge was upon him with the knife. One bullet lodged in his head, another in his cheek, and another in his arm. He fell to the floor dying. Jahn left the house. When the neighbors rushed in they found Mrs. Smith kneeling beside the dying man and her two children cowering in the corner. At the police station Mrs. Smith said Partridge was her brother. She would tell nothing more. As Jahn has a good reputation, it is expected that he will give himself up to the police today.

Swindling Women.

Mont Clair, N. J. Oct., 3.—The police say the confidence man who represented himself as "Frederick Miller" and who swindled Miss Eleanor Wood recently out of $100, has been operating very extentively in this section and that he has a bundle of letters in his possession from young women who answered his advertisements and wanted jobs. Not only have single girls came under his attention, but also widows. Several cases are reported of intended victims of the persuasive stranger. One was Mrs. H. A. Wright, an attractive New York widow, living here, Mrs. Wright answered the "fake" advertisement and after the first interview with the stranger, felt inclined to accept the offer which necessitated her putting up $100 for the bond, the same as in Miss Wood's case When the man called at her house he was informed that Mrs. Wright had gone on a short visit to her mother in Philadelphia. The stranger was given her address, but whether he visited her there could not be learned. He then went after Miss Wood.

Validity of Divorces.

New York, Oct. 3.—On the issue of a suit just filed in the Supreme Court will depend the settlement of the question whether hundreds of divorces granted in New York county are valid. Far reaching ramifications will follow if it is declared these divorces are illegal, because in many cases the parties, honestly believing they were divorced, have remarried. Many have children by their new partners, and these would be declared illegitimate. The present agitation is the outcome of the discovery by census bureau agents who recently investigated the county records that many decrees had never been filed and consequently the contention is raised that the divorces were invalid. The mere fact that the decree is not on file will be made the basis of the suit Fully 2,500 such cases are known to exist.

The New York Campaign.

The man who brought the intelligence, Charles Mani, stated that two families were lost in the flood which swept the little town away.

Thousands of people have visited this wonderful "gasser," and excursions to it are a popular diversion hereabouts. The problem of harnessing this gas is puzzling the owners, and they have offered $1,000 to any one who can offer a solution.

When the mail train dashed into the rear of the freight in the dense fog, passengers were hurled from their seats and many rendered senseless.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Oct. 3 —The stock market trading and price movements during the first hour were both decidely irregular, various groups of stocks being influenced by large speculative operations. All the Evidence Received.

All the evidence upon the charge of members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers that the police of the Fourth precinct of Washington were inefficient on the night Engineer Hugh Murphy was scalded to death, beneath an overturned engine of the Southern Railway, at Sixth street and Maryland avenue southwest, is now in the hands of Maj. Sylvester. It is said that a police trial board is imperative and the only satisfactory means of reaching a conclusion as to the real merits of the case. The most important development yesterday was a report made to Commissioner Macfarland by J. B. Carmer, general foreman of repairs of the Pennsylvania Railroad, upon the jacks used by the railroad workmen in their efforts to lift a part of the engine from the suffering engineer. This information was asked by the Commissioner, and is looked upon by him as of vital importance in the case. He thinks it should show whether it was possible for the jacks used to raise the wreck. Southern Railway engine No. 1216 which was overturned is known as Pacific type, and the weight of the engine proper is ninety-five tons, or thereabouts. The combined weight of engine and tender ready for service is 110 tons.

Requisition Issued.

The removal of John Wright, colored, alias Joseph Thomas, from Washington to Alexandria county, for trial for the murder of Jackson Boney, August 23 last, is sought in a requisition which has been issued by Governor Swanson. The requisition now is in the hands of Assistant United States Attorney Hugh T. Taggart, at Washington, and will be presented to Chief Justice Clabaugh within a few days. Commonwealth's Attorney Crandal Mackey has assured John W. Patterson and A. W. Scott, counsel for Wright, that there will be no mob violence on the part of citizens of Alexandria county if Wright is incarcerated in jail there. Should any demonstration be made against Wright, Mr. Mackey says, Gov. Swanson has authorized the sheriff of the county to remove the prisoner to Fredericksburg or Richmond. Wright is also charged with assaulting and robbing Miss Mabel Risley and Forrest Gooding, near Luna Park a few weeks ago.

Strike of Steamboat Men.

The strike of the masters and licensed deckmen of the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia and the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway companies yesterday tightened its grip on Baltimore shipping. Among the steamers scheduled to leave Baltimore, but which did not leave their piers, are the Lancaster, Capt. Daniel M. Davis, of the Rappahannock river route, and Northumberland, Capt. Joseph Smith, of the Potomac river route. The Calvert, Capt. Herbert A. Bohannan, expected in from Washington and Alexandria today, and the Westmoreland, Capt. James H. Burroughs, due to arrive from the Patuxent, are expected by the men will join the tiedup fleet. It was insisted yesterday by the men now out that the Northumberland, Capt. Joseph Smith, of the Potomac river route, and the Westmoreland, Capt. Joseph Smith, due to go out for Patuxent river points, will not leave their piers.

New Freight Facilities

Owing to an unavoidable delay, the agreement made by the Southern Railway officials with the Jobbers and Shippers' Association of Washington that after October 1 all freight shipped from that city would be billed through to the points for which it was intended instead of being rebilled at Alexandria, will not go into effect until October 15. The reason given by the officials of the road for this delay is that the company cannot occupy the Potomac yards until that time. Immediately after the occupation of the yards, say the officials, the agreement for the through-billing of the Washington freight shipments will go into effect.

In this connection it may be stated that it is said to be the intention of the Washington-Southern Railway Company to build a mammoth freight depot in the new yard at which all through freight for Alexandria will be delivered, and that from this city received.

The New Engine.

The new steam fire engine recently built at Seneca Falls, N. Y., for this city was given a thorough test yesterday. Mr. Thomas M. Robinson, superintendent of machinery of the Washington fire department, who conducted the trial of the apparatus, went to the Columbia engine house this morning and made a careful inspection of the boiler of the new engine in order to see if it had been strained in any way by yesterday's test. He also examined the entire apparatus. He will make an official report to the Fire Wardens within the next few days. It is believed that the engine has proved to be satisfactory in every particular.

The Missing Horses.

The whereabouts of the horses which were drowned at the ferry slip Monday had not been ascertained this morning. The dock in front of the ferry slip has been searched. It was at first supposed that the dead animals were under the float, but a careful examination showed that this was not the case. It is now thought that they have been drawn out into the channel.

To Close Tonight.

Tonight will be the last opportunity this season for patrons of Luna Park to visit that resort and enjoy the numerous amusement features there. Today has been known as "German Day," and the pleasant weather has induced large numbers to visit the park. Many propose to go there tonight.

Sailing of Italian Cruiser.

The Italian cruiser Fieramosca which had been lying at Washington since Sunday the 16th ultimo, left this morning for New York by way of Norfolk The cruiser attracted considerable attention as she passed this city.

Opera House.

The Corinne Runkel Stock Co. scored another hit at the Opera House last night in the four act melodrama "The Maid of the Mill." Another large crowd was present, and the play from start to finish was heartily enjoyed. Each and every one in the cast was more than equal to the part assigned them and every climax were heartily applauded. Harry Price, the leading man, gave an excellent portrayal of the difficult part of Harry Denbigh, while Ray Myers, as Minnie Foster, was indeed a winsome heroine. Miss Corinne Runkel played the part of "Kitty" in her usual good style. Miss Runkel is an actress of no small ability and always acquits herself creditably. Mr. Charles Guthrie, as Samuel Slade, played the heavy role to perfection. The comedy parts of Dare Runkel and Ted Breton were also excellent. The specialties were again of a pleasing nature and were far above the average. Tonight the company will produce the excellent drama "Our Boys," with new specialties and new scenery. On the last Saturday night of the engagement a beautiful new parlor set of furniture will be given away. Numbers will be distributed each night hereafter.

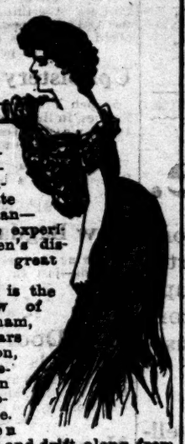
DE ZESTA just received by J. C. MILBURN.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT



That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, and for many years under her direction, and since her decease, she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCT. 3, 1906.

A Woman and $10.

You give a woman $10 and then borrow 72 cents from her and see what will happen. Two days later you casually inquire what has become of the $10. She tells you she has not had $10. You waive the question whether she ever had $10 and ask her if she has $10 now, and finally get a reluctant admission that she is penniless. Then you follow up the inquiry and discover that she has bought nothing. Then you are ready with the final charge, "What, then, did you do with the $10?" and that blessed woman will come back at you like this, "You gave me $10 and then borrowed it back." That is the way your 72 cents becomes a boomerang that smashes you and your $10 to smithereens. And yet, in spite of all, that same woman will hang on to 99 cents and get more out of it and make it do more things and spread it round over more clothes and keep it simmering like a bubbling spring—in short, take her all in all, a woman is the master financier of the world.—Judge.

Chinese Dialects.

"It is absolutely impossible," writes a traveler recently returned from a tour of China, "to conceive of a nation speaking as many dialects as you will find in China. A foreigner's ability to speak Chinese is a practically worthless acquirement, as about every twenty-five miles the dialect changes to such an extent as to be practically another language, and even if you are speaking the best mandarin—the court language—you are quite apt to be told that your honorable foreign language is not understood. Even the governors of the provinces have to employ interpreters to communicate with the people they govern.

"It is a common joke among foreigners in China that the natives always indicate by signs what they intend to converse about before beginning to talk, and this is a joke with quite a grain of truth in it."—Harper's Weekly.

English Settles.

The "genuine English settles" often offered in shops are viewed with discretion by travelers who have seen such belongings in old English farmhouses. On their native heath they are of solid oak, fully five feet high and running quite across the great kitchens. They are black with time and are apt to be well seasoned with ham fat. The duty of the settle is fourfold. It is the family seat, and, as the bench part can be raised, in the drawers beneath are kept the family rags for weaving. Above the seat is the family hat rack. The upright is double, and in the recess thus formed the family bacon is hung, doors opening from behind into this cupboard. The dainty affairs we know as English settles are toys compared to the actual thing.—New York Post.

Destroying Money.

Paper money is nothing but a promise to pay so much coin. If you destroy a five dollar note, for instance, you simply release the government or the bank which issued the note from the payment of the $5 in gold which the note called for. Of course, therefore, you are not punishable in any manner for destroying the note if it is your own. There is no penalty for mutilating gold or silver coin if you keep it in your own possession, but as you have thereby destroyed a considerable part of its value you must not try to pass it at par after the mutilation.

Too Suggestive.

In a small town in California a hospital was erected on Salsipuedes street, and the board of directors, in lieu of something better, suggested that the hospital bear the name of the street. One more cautious than the rest suggested that it would be well to know the meaning of such a name before making indiscriminate use of it, and it is to this man that the success of the hospital is due, for on finding that Salsipuedes meant "get out if you can," the name was hastily changed to something less suggestive of "who enters here, leaves hope behind."—Argonaut.

Altered In Repairing.

A man in Chicago, says a writer in Judge, found himself in the chair of a strange barber, to whom his features, although unfamiliar, seemed to carry some reminiscent suggestion.

"Have you been here before?" asked the hair cutter.

"Once," said the man.

"Strange I do not recognize your face."

"Not at all," said the man. "It changed a good deal as it healed."

To See Plainly.

The more I think of it I find this conclusion more impressed upon me, that the greatest thing a human soul ever does in this world is to see something and tell what it saw in a plain way. Hundreds of people can talk for one who can think, but thousands can think for one who can see. To see clearly is poetry, prophecy and religion—all in one.—Ruskin.

English Humor.

The English brand of humor is sedate and stately. It is not intended to be laughed at. The man who would laugh at Punch would go into hysterics at a funeral. Punch's notion of humor is altogether too sublime for any place outside of an English drawing room.—Bobcaygeon Independent, Ontario.

Humorists.

Humorists frequently have sad faces, but humorists are not sad because they are humorists. They are humorists because they are sad. Humor is born of acute sympathy.—Keble Howard in Sketch.

Tens and tired friends of the family—DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Best for results and best to take. Dependable little pills. They do not gripe or sicken. Sold by W. F Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Human Blood Marks.

A tale of horror was told by marks of human blood in the home of J. W. Williams, a well known merchant of Bac, Ky., He writes: "Twenty years ago I had severe hemorrhages of the lungs, and was near death when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. It completely cured me and I have remained well ever since." It cures Hemmorhages, Chronic Coughs, Settled Colds and Bronchitis, and is the only known cure for Weak Lungs. Every bottle guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists' 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
